NEW FOR 2019

IAB is committed to reporting and analyzing how the DTC Brand Economy is impacting the industry overall—from innovations to go-to-market strategies, from product delivery to ad delivery, from customer acquisition to audience targeting and optimization, from revenue to media measurement, and more.

As part of that commitment, this report includes a breakout of Direct to Consumer Brands (note: direct-to-consumer brands include DTC Brands—i.e., brands that are digitally native and follow the stack-your-own supply chain business model^).

Digital Video Ad Spend: Executive Summary

Ad spend in Digital Video continues to accelerate: Marketers report an increase for digital video budgets by 25% y/y

And the growth is occurring in all categories—with Media & Entertainment reported at +75% and Fashion/Apparel at +45% since 2018

Areas driving spend increases:

• Original Digital Video content— ODV now averages $9.3M (up 31% y/y); although advertisers consider ODV “essential”, the spend on this content type is still challenged by “quality of content”

• Advanced TV— Nearly 60% of advertisers report that they will increase their budgets for ATV this year, primarily because they find OTT to be beneficial in delivering tough to reach audiences

• Mobile and Desktop have reached parity in spending, with nearly two-thirds of the total digital video spend allocated evenly across the two devices

• Programmatic— Growth in digital video programmatic spending is expected to rise +4% year/year, now reaching 53% overall

• This year’s report also includes spend among direct to consumer marketers (DTC). While this is only 17% of the total sample size for this report, we can see, directionally, that DTC marketers expect to allocate more than 50% of their digital spend on digital video advertising (a +50% y/y increase)

Note: NewFronts presenters have a clear advantage capturing advertisers' spend. Buyers expect to allocate 43% of their digital video budgets at this time.
Methodology

350 Online Interviews Conducted

Survey Fielded: February 18 - March 1 2019

Total Sample: Marketer and Agency decision-makers in the following sectors: Automotive, CPG, Fashion & Apparel, Finance, Home Furnishings Media & Entertainment, Retail, Telecommunications

Note: Sample has changed from previous IAB Video Ad Spend reports with the inclusion of Direct to Consumer (DTC) marketers

New for 2019: Direct to Consumer Marketers are now included and comprise 17% of the total sample.
DTC data should be used directionally only.
Also new this year, sample now includes Fashion & Apparel, Media & Entertainment and Home Furnishings advertising decision makers

Note: Data falling below the stable threshold are noted for directional purposes and to be used directionally only

Qualification: Involved in Digital Video Advertising Decision-Making (categories as per above); $1M+ Total Annual Ad Spend; must have at least a modest understanding of the Digital Content NewFronts

Throughout the report ‘Original Digital Video Content’ refers to programming (not advertising) that is professionally produced specifically for digital/online consumption and is ad supported. For additional Taxonomy, please refer to the last page of this presentation.

Key Highlights

Original Digital Video (ODV) Spending & Trends

• Continued growth: Year after year,Advertisers continue to increase their spending on Original Digital Video. This year is no different with spending growing by 31% from last year.
  • DTC marketers report that 2019 will be a year of significant spend increases in ODV
  • Advertisers report that content quality is the top differentiator when identifying ODV partners

Digital Content NewFronts: Impact and Importance

• The NewFronts have a substantial influence on Original Digital Video advertising spend decisions for 84% of advertisers
  • 8 in 10 advertisers agree that their attendance at the 2018 NewFronts resulted in increased spending on Original Digital Video content
  • More than half of attendees report that the NewFronts resulted in greater spending throughout the year
  • 43% of Advertisers’ ODV budgets will be allocated at the NewFronts. NewFronts presenters have a clear advantage capturing advertisers’ spend.

NOTE: For definitions, please see Taxonomy page in the Appendix of this deck
Digital Advertising Trends

Native Advertising continues to grow with just over half of Advertisers reporting an increase in their spend in 2018 compared to 2017.

Social Media is having a significant effect on Advertisers’ attitudes regarding budget allocation: 7 in 10 advertisers currently use influencers in their digital video advertising; another 9% plan to in the next year.

- The new ad formats advertisers plan to increase their use of include Vertical Video Ads*, Stories, and Shoppable Video Ads

Advanced TV spend expected to grow significantly

- 59% of buyers plan to increase their Advanced TV spend in the next 12 months

OTT spend to increase significantly

- Half of buyers plan to spend more on OTT this year while 44% plan to maintain spend, despite disagreement over the definition of OTT (half consider OTT to be video on TV screens, half don’t)
- OTT is valued for the ability to deliver hard to reach audiences, followed by ability to better optimize ad campaigns in the future with relevance. Price, measurement and lack of scale are reported drawbacks

Multi Platform Buying

- More than 8 in 10 advertisers agree that a unified multi-platform buying solution (TV + digital video) is important

We are becoming better acquainted and educated about the process and players.
- Marketer, C-Level, Fashion/Apparel, DTC

Generate more leads. Boost revenue. Increase engagement. Appear on top sites. Reach target audiences.
- Agency, Director, Home Furnishings

My company is shifting the way it allocates advertising budget, and the Digital Content NewFronts has proven to be helpful in determining what strategy to adopt moving forward. This year, we have saved budget to allocate based on best practices shared at that time.
- Marketer, C-Level, CPG, DTC

More premium content being presented in the NewFronts.
- Agency, Director, CPG

Because it is a great way to reach a larger target audience.
- Marketer, Director, Media & Entertainment

More and more consumers are turning to mobile video for news, information and entertainment, and we need to be where they are. Fewer and fewer are getting their information from TV, radio or print.

DTC brands allocate a slightly greater share of their digital video spend programmatically than Incumbent brands.
Taxonomy

Original Digital Video Content: Refers to programming (not advertising) that is professionally produced specifically for digital/online consumption and is ad supported

^ DTC Brands: Brands that are digitally native, sell direct to consumer, and use a stack-your-own supply chain business model

* Vertical Video Ads: Digital video ads that are displayed in portrait mode and shot in portrait and/or landscape mode (9:16 aspect ratio), rather than the widescreen format (16:9 aspect ratio) normalized by movies and television. Vertical video ads are typically delivered on mobile devices (which has the optimal aspect ratio to fit and fill the entire screen)

 Stories: Mobile-first, swipeable, brand-created longer form video, vertical video montages initially popularized by Snapchat and now used by billions of consumers across Instagram, WhatsApp, Snapchat, Facebook, Facebook Messenger and other platforms—disappears after 24 hours

 Shoppable ads: Interactive ads designed to connect consumers with products/services/merchants within the ad itself

^^ Advanced TV: Any TV content that is delivered outside of traditional linear television model; encompasses both data-enabled and addressable TV advertising (i.e, Addressable TV, Data Enabled Linear TV, Over-the-Top TV (OTT))

- Addressable TV: The ability to deliver different ads to different households watching the same program, allowing advertisers to focus on ad relevance and impact

- Over-the-Top (OTT) TV: Digital Video Content that is transported (streamed) through the internet onto a connected device (laptop, smartphone, tablet, or Connected TV (CTV))

Additional Related Description:

CTV is a television that's connected to the internet (connected TV is one devices through which that OTT content can be consumed)
